Ready your skillets! You've been gifted a year's worth of single-source, extra virgin olive oil from Especially Puglia, an Italian company that promotes the time-honored tradition of olive oil-making and the groves behind it. Better yet, it will all be delivered right to your door (yes, really).

You'll first receive a 3-liter can of olive oil from their family-run organic farm; a funnel and ceramic cruet made by Puglian artisans; and an adoption certificate for a tree from their orchard. Every three months for the rest of the year, another 3-liter tin of olive oil will arrive at your doorstep, each shipment from a different one of Especially Puglia's olive groves (for a total of four 3-liter tins).

Your pantry will always be stocked, and your bread will never be happier.
